COMPUTER ANALYSIS

Missing Notes

You have no hits for the note(s) of: C, C#, D, D#, F, A#. Either you did not take enough samples (100-500 is usually best) or your subject matter did not include thoughts or topics that would involve this/these note(s). See the Note Correlate Chart that appears on the Cover Page for more explanation.

Points of Importance, Attention and Consequence

You can be fussy about your physical space. It needs to satisfy you and no one else. Sometimes you spend a lot of energy trying to get even the smallest detail right the first time. Your stamina to get things accomplished is admirable. You push yourself and others to finish the job. You love new ideas that mean you can have a project to work on.

Your highest note is associated with the expression of physically prioritizing. Personal control over what happens in your physical environment resides with this note. Your highest note is associated with the expression of what you consider to be your physical domain. Having dominion over your physical environment resides with this note. Your highest note is associated with the expression of duty to work and accomplishment. The ability to see the flaws in a plan and make it right resides with this note.

Those around you will allow you to give too much unless you define your own needs. You tend to do more for others than they do for you. The right words at the right time can sometimes elude you because of all of the internal dialogue. Being able to prioritize what needs to be done emotionally is not always easy for you. Your metabolism shows to be a weak point in your vocal print.

Points of Communication, Complications and Complaints

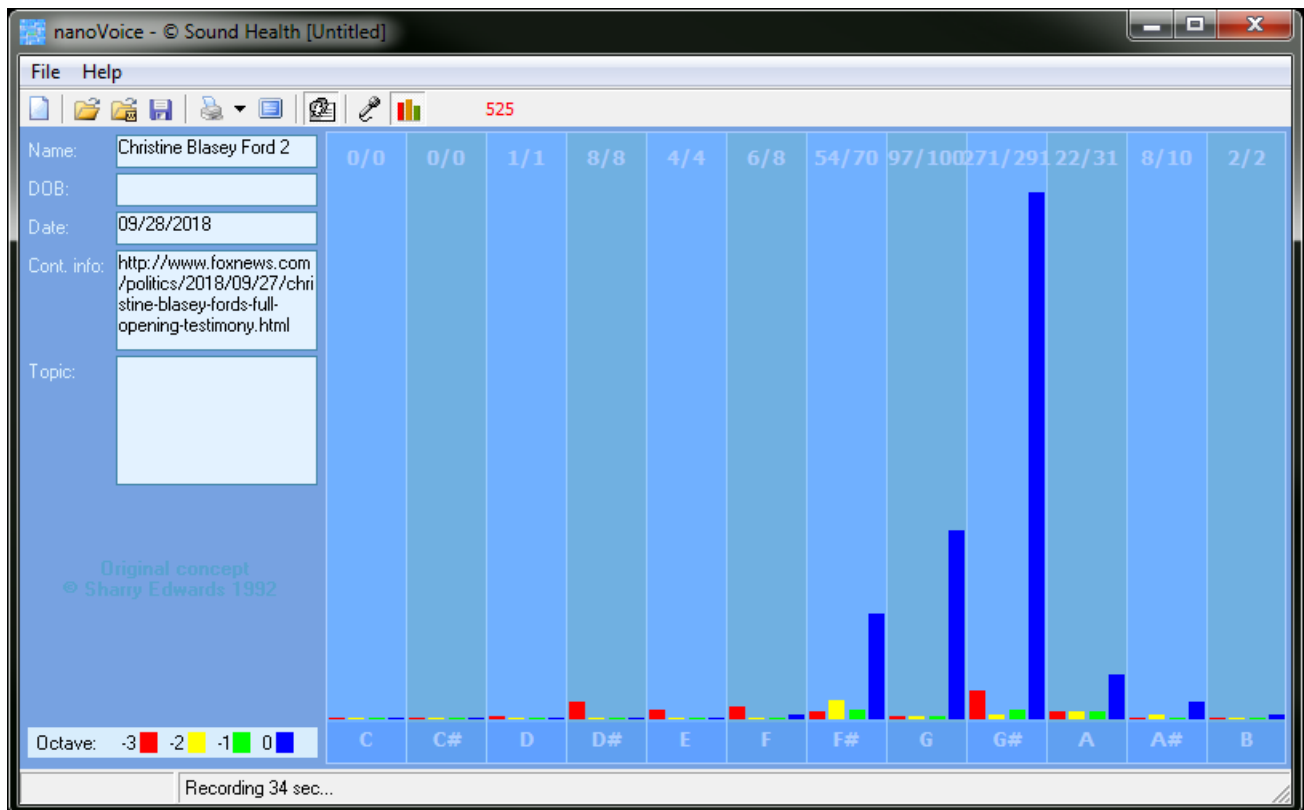

It is particularly bothersome when people use or borrow your property without permission. You like your working environment to be efficient with things readily available.

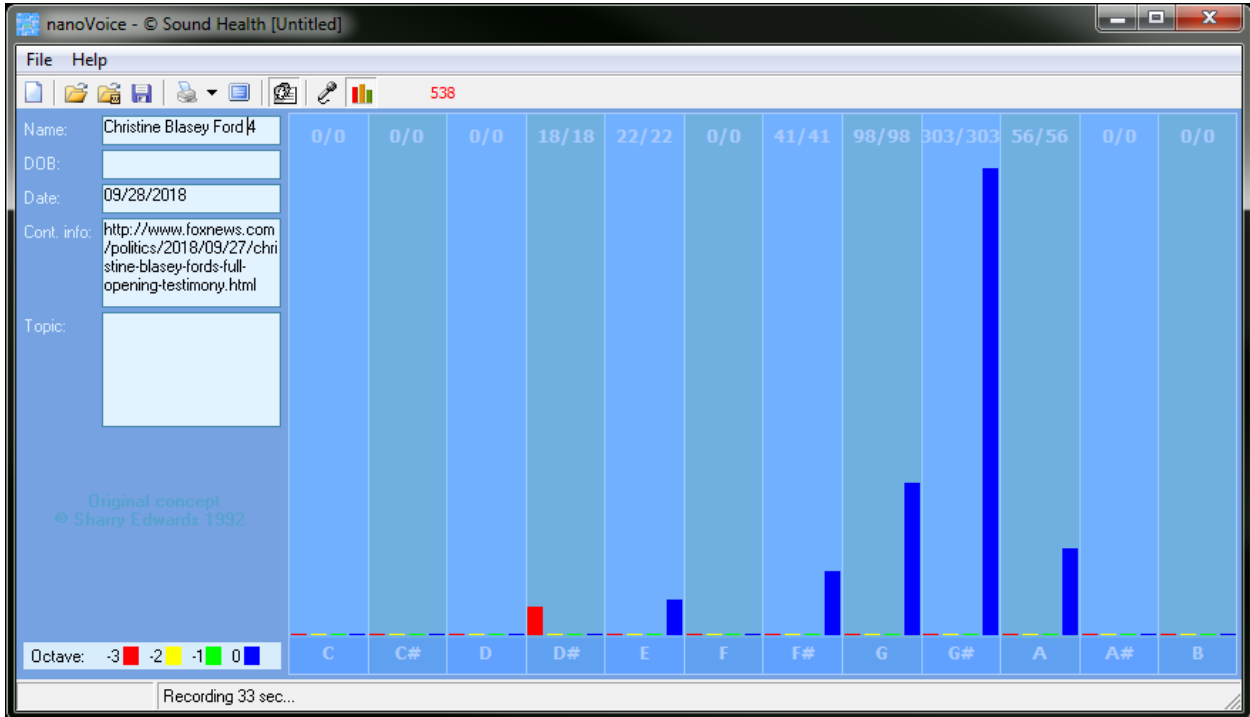

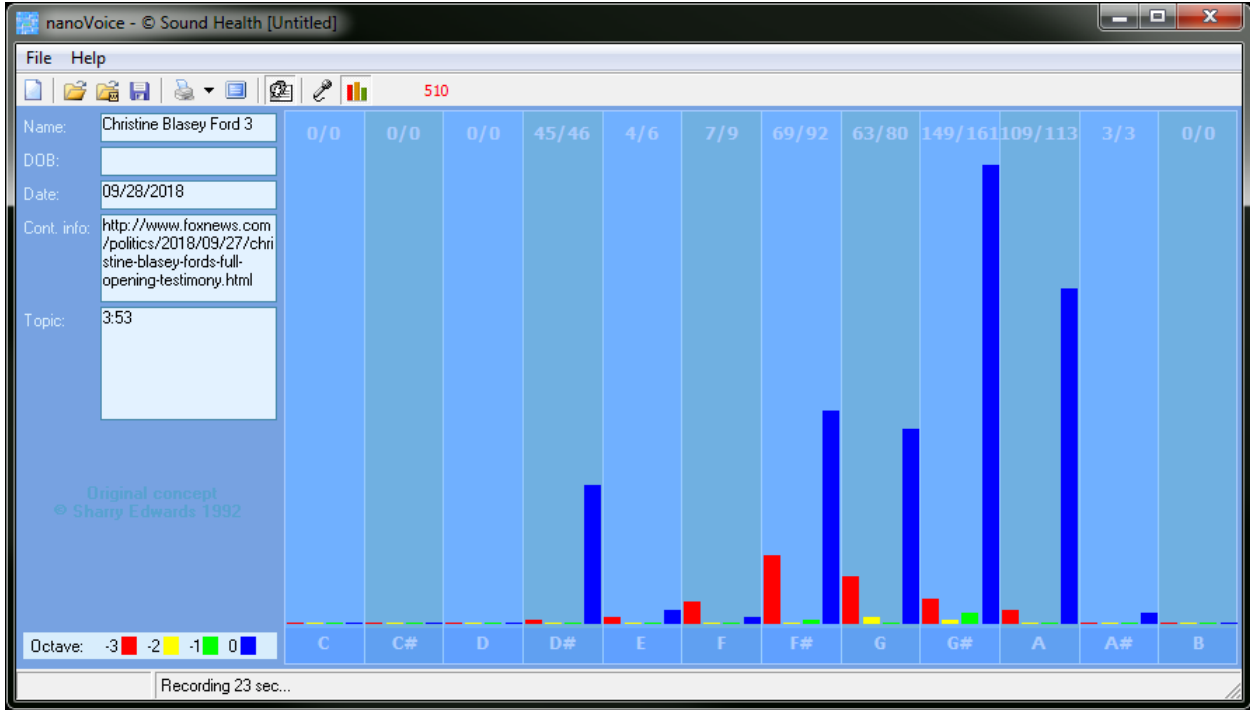

Your connection to universal truths absorbs your time. You wish someone could understand you without demanding a lot of conversation. You can easily be distracted from carrying out your plans by a more exciting prospect.

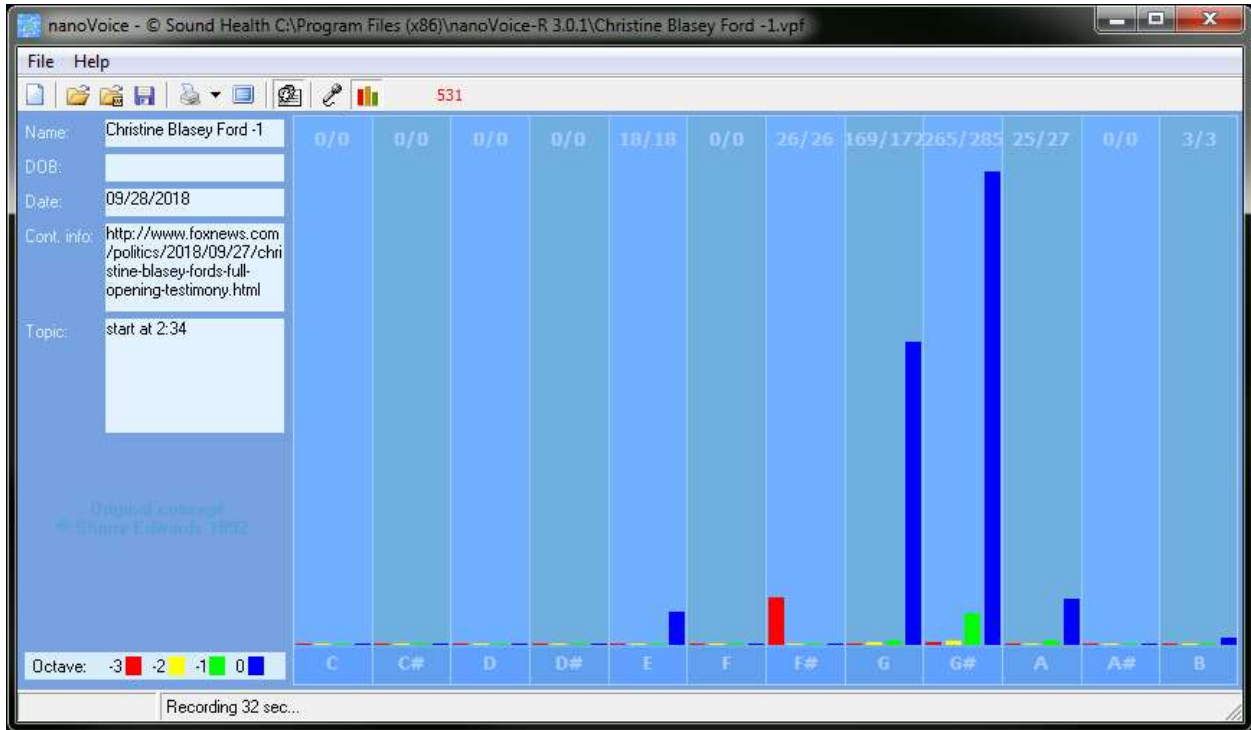

SHARRY EDWARDS MEd COMMENTS

Four evaluations were used for this analysis. Octave presentation shows extreme naiveté especially through the note of G, G#, and A. Ford believes what she is saying but is at the same time very concerned about her physical safety.

Very little ego, justice or support for others is displayed. She is withholding words in every instance. G# is her strongest emotional note. Her emotions are genuine, yet entirely right brained. Logic is not part of this chart.
